N. R. A. Campaign Eagle In Northfield Canvass Begins Monday

With the Blue Eagle drive daily gaining momentum in every part of the country, there is mounting evidence that the nation soon will be fully enlisted behind this new American bird. Reports reaching Northfield from Washington give a stirring picture of a campaign for re-employment that is unique in the annals of this or any other country. According to these reports approximately 6,000 communities are now organized with a militant crew of volunteer workers who are going the limit of their ability to make possible the objectives of President Roosevelt and National Recovery Administrator Johnson which is 5,000,000 more men and women on the payrolls of the nation by Labor Day. And to this volunteer army, thousands of recruits are being added daily as new communities by the hundreds take up the work.

One of the marvels of the campaign, is the speed with which these mighty strides have been attained. It is literally a matter of days since the Blue Eagle first was thrust across the American horizon. Less than 30 days ago, General Johnson requested leading citizens in all parts of the country to take the initiative in forming militant Blue Eagle organizations in their respective communities. This was the beginning of the campaign. It has been a bombardment of enlistment. Through all the thousands of messages that have been pouring into Washington, this has been the theme of all: "We're ready to go. Tell us what to do."

It is not going too far to say that all America has enlisted behind the Blue Eagle.

The N. R. A. offices in Washington, have been literally swamped with correspondence, thus showing the tremendous public reaction. It has not been possible even for the great facilities of the U. S. Government to deliver consumer's cards, stickers, Blue Eagle insignia and other supplies and paraphernalia as rapidly as the public has demanded them. However, officials in Washington promise that all the required literature and insignia will reach them before the culminating week of effort which will begin next Monday.

The task so far has been to shape up the local organizations. By next Monday it is expected that all this will have been completed and then the army will be ready to march.

And the army, according to Washington advices today, will be kept on the march until all America yields to the Blue Eagle. Which is just another way of saying—Until the back of the depression has been broken.

Northfield is ready and the N. R. A. Eagle will be furnished to every home where cards are signed.

An important meeting of the General NRA Committee of Northfield is called for this Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the selectmen's room in Town Hall when important matters will be considered in connection with the local situation. A full attendance is expected. At eight o'clock the "Consumer's Staff" will meet and consists of those invited to participate in the signing of cards and distribution of emblems. Monday Aug. 28 will inaugurate the consumer's drive. On that day will be launched an intensive campaign to sign up every consumer in the United States to a uniform pledge declaring for the patronage of only those business concerns which are enrolled under the President's re-employment agreement.

The announcement of the date of the consumer's drive was received by Chairman William F. Hoeft of the local NRA by Hugh D. Butler, New England manager of NRA in a telegram from Charles F. Homer, director of public relations in Washington.

"All NRA organizations in New England will co-operate under the leadership of the state recovery boards on that day, in plans which are being formulated now, to canvass the entire district, enroll every consumer in New England, and furnish him with appropriate cards, emblems and stickers, as part of a Nation-wide program to back up the employers who have signed the President's agreement."

The Committee in direct charge of the Consumer's Canvass consists of Mr. George McEwan, Mr. Harry Gingrass, Mr. Charles A. Parker and Mrs. W. P. Stanley.

The Crusade Singers Gave Wonderful Concert

The Crusade Union Boy Singers, a chorus of about 25 picked boys, from a total membership of over one thousand with headquarters at Newark N. J., visited Northfield and gave a concert last Friday evening in the Auditorium of the Northfield Seminary. The Herald last week published the announcement and gave a statement regarding the visit. The Christian Endeavor Conference being in session the delegates attended in a body and the summer residents were fully represented. The Auditorium was well filled and the program was of special delight and won great applause and approval. The evening offered a real treat to all who attended. The boys appeared in their summer uniforms with a blue sash and made a very impressive appearance. Their voices blended splendidly and the selections presented were well known favorites of a music loving people. The boys ranged from 12 to 19 years of age and came from 15 or more towns and cities tributary to Newark and are all thoroughly trained singers. The organization is undenominational, the boys coming from a great variety of churches. It was founded by the present director, the Rev. H. E. K. Whitney.

The members of the chorus included: Edgar Green, boy bass soloist; a horn trio, including George Moagher, first trumpet; Kenneth Whelan, second trumpet; and Louis Schille, trombone; Vincent Chwalkowski, violin soloist; Philip Corey, soprano soloist; Clement Hess, pianist; a male quartet composed of Vincent Chwalkowski, first tenor; Harold Van Schoick, second tenor; Paul Stagaard, baritone; and Edgar Green, bass. A trio which sings colored spirituals included Harold and Robert Behn and Frank Krummel.

On Saturday afternoon the boys gave a special concert at the Northfield Hotel and Saturday evening they were at Hinsdale. They were at Brattleboro Sunday.

The Franklin County Extension Service is arranging a County Picnic at the Catamount Hill Camp, Colrain, for Saturday, August 26, 1933. Everyone is invited and a good time is assured to all.

All who attend are asked to bring basket lunches. Refreshments of various kinds will be on sale by 4-H clubs in charge of a committee. To reach the camp turn right at Shelburne Falls toward Colrain and turn left on dirt road just after passing iron bridge south of Shattuckville.

Speakers for the day will include Hugh P. Baker, president of Massachusetts State College; Willard A. Munson, director of state extension work; John W. Haigis of Greenfield, William Stacy of Colrain, authority on lore of the Catamount camp and vicinity.

The order of events for the day will include a hike to the first flag school monument at 11 a. m., a conducted tour of the camp grounds at 11.30 a. m., lunch at noon, the speaking program at 1.30, a program of sports at 2, and another conducted tour of the camp at 3 p. m.

The program of sports will include events for both men and women, with a special attraction to be taken in by the latter in which they will demonstrate their accuracy at throwing a woman's weapon, the rolling pin. The feature for the men will be a log chopping contest for choppers who have never before entered such an event. There will also be boxing matches for 4-H boys.

Thomas E. Elder of Mount Hermon and Mrs. C. H. Miller of Northfield are on the Program Committee. Mrs. Charles Keil of Northfield is on the Sports Committee. Richard Clapp of Gil is on the Traffic Committee and Mrs. M. E. Vorce of Northfield is on the Grounds Committee.

Many Northfield folks will travel there Saturday.

On Vacation Trip

Y. also to visit relatives and return home about the first of September. While they are away friends from Wilmington will occupy the home and arrangements have been made for Dr. Chauncey V. Perry of Greenfield to attend to the Doctor's patients for medical service.

Speers Far North

Headmaster and Mrs. Elliott Speers are on a trip in the far Canadian wilds. They left Northfield last Saturday by motor for Montreal and from there will go to Ottawa. From Ottawa they proceed north through the woodland to Lake Temagami, North Bay where they have established a summer camp on an island in the upper lake. They will return to Northfield after Labor Day.

Breaks And Breaks Local Places Entered Early Tuesday Morning

Tuesday morning the discovery was made that four business places in town were broken into. Stearns Garage, Morgan's Garage, The Northfield Pharmacy and the C. V. Railroad Station. At Stearns Garage a pane of glass was broken and a few pennies taken from an open cash register. At Morgan's Garage a pane of glass was broken and about $1 taken in pennies and some candy and tobacco. At the Pharmacy, the drawers were opened and the robbers carried away a small collection of sundry articles. They effected an entrance by removing a glass in the side of the front display window. At the station they forced a window and smashed a candy machine. The entries probably took place during the early morning hours while it was quite dark and raining. The work is evidently that of young men who are amateurs but rather bold in their daring. The police have been called in and are working on the case. Late Monday evening strangers were seen in the vicinity of the Town Hall and Parker Street and it may have been the two persons in it that committed the acts. Later information is that the Mount Hermon Station was entered and Stearns Garage at Bernardston where one was seen and chased to the woods. Breaks in Northfield have been altogether too frequent whether done by local parties or from out of town. Northfield has been victimized. East Northfield has suffered and the summer residents have endured in patience such acts for several years without complaint. Recently parties caught and identified by police have been allowed to go through misplaced judgment and sympathy and there is no dread of being "bad." However now without further delay summer residents will arrange the policing of their properties and any offending man trespasser will be punished to the limit. Money is being provided for this protection of property and the ways and means established. What Northfield needs in this matter of general police supervision is "less racket" less hysteria and more common sense.

Treadway To Entertain Political Friends

On Friday, August 25th at Camp MacKenac at Stockbridge, Congressman Allen T. Treadway will entertain a large gathering of his friends, members of the Legislature and other State Officers and on the following day another group will be entertained consisting of members of town and city republican town committees.

Virginia Camp Closes

The last group of 40 young people from New York returned home yesterday from Virginia Fresh Air Camp. Last evening they had an outdoor play when "Celestial Love," a Chinese play-let was performed by about ten characters. The course of true love between Ting-Ling, the mandarin's daughter, and How-Do, the mandarin's secretary, did not run smoothly, but it was realized in heaven after the rich suitor had cut their throats.

The camp committee also held a meeting yesterday under the presidency of Mrs. W. R. Moody, and reviewed the work of the summer. There was an exhibit of articles made by the girls under the guidance of Miss Harper and the counselors. These included pillow covers and other bags, toy rabbits and dogs and ducks and cats in stuffed old cloth material, purses, etc.

Dunnell Family Reunion

The Dunnell family held their fifth annual reunion at the home of Luther Dunnell in Buckland last Sunday with nearly forty members present.

A delightful day was spent by all in attendance. Among those from Northfield were Mr. George Dunnell, Mr. Myron Dunnell and Mr. Henry Johnson with their families.

Officers elected at the short business meeting were Jesse Dunnell of Shelburne Falls, president; Mrs. Henry Johnson of Northfield, vice-president; and Mrs. George Harris of Colrain, secretary and treasurer. Plans were made for the meeting next year to be held at the home of Mrs. Monroe Harris of Christian Hill.

Holton Family Reunion

The sixth biennial reunion of the Holton family association in America will be held Saturday, Sept. 9, in Northfield at the Chalet of the Northfield Hotel. A large attendance is expected.

Dr. Arthur Adams of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., will be the guest speaker. Other speakers will be Major Herbert Holton of New York, Mrs. Minerva Holton Walbeck of Rochester, N. Y., and John A. Taggart of Millers Falls.

This association is founded for the descendants of Deacon William Holton who was one of the original proprietors of Hartford, Conn., and a founder and leading citizen of Northampton.

Endeavor Conference Ends; Delegates Return Home

Monday witnessed the departure of the last contingent of the 4500 people who have attended the five religious conferences of the summer at East Northfield.

The Christian Endeavor Conference concluded its sessions and the successful gathering of young people from all over New England wended their way homeward.

Representatives from nearly forty states and ten foreign countries, registered at one or more of the conferences. More than 300 services and classes were held during the summer, of which 100 were platform addresses. Leading speakers in the religious field from both Great Britain and America were present. The presidents of several colleges and divinity schools as well as several heads of secondary schools spoke or were in attendance. Editors of religious periodicals, including the British Weekly, foremost of them all in influence and upwards to 200 ministers participated. More than 50 missionaries and 1000 active officers and church workers came to acquire better methods and inspiration. Every phase of church interest was studied.

Upwards to 200 ministers participated. More than fifty missionaries and 1000 active officers and church workers came to acquire better methods and inspiration. Every phase of church interest was studied.

The deductions to be drawn are that religion and the church are much alive. If Northfield is any indication, the challenge and need of the modern world to accept Christianity is coming to be realized more and more. The vision of D. L. Moody, whose spirit centers in Northfield, seems to have been caught by the thousands who have been here this summer.

Prominent Banker Offers Prize For N. R. A. Slogan

Mr. Deleware King, Vice-President of the Granite Trust Co. of Quincy who has often visited Northfield and has friends here offers $10 for the best NRA slogan. Back in 1924 Mr. King became convinced that there were many persons who cast contempt upon the Nation and other degree of disfavor upon persons who continued to drink intoxicants and violated the Eighteenth Amendment. He offered a prize of $100 dollars to describe such violators and after a nation wide campaign the slogan "Scofflaw" was accepted. The award went to Harold Bisbee of Milton.

Now Mr. King, who, incidentally has been appointed a "colon" in Quincy's NRA organization, is offering $10 for a slogan for the national recovery campaign. Northfield folks are invited to send to Mr. King their suggestions for a slogan.

Schools To Open

All the public schools of Northfield including the High School will open on Tuesday September 5th and our young folks will again be seen trudging along to the daily sessions for classes.

Automobile Mishaps

On the Gill Road Tuesday evening two cars failed of sufficient clearing on passing and an auto driven by Frank Garfield and one by Turners Falls parties came together with their rear front wheels. Both cars were damaged and a State Police officer investigated. No one was hurt.

Joseph Cembali in a Ford car collided with a New York motor car last Saturday as he entered the Bernardston highway from the right off an old road. The wheels of the cars were locked but only slight damage done. The occupants of the New York car were somewhat shaken.

A narrow escape from accident happened last Saturday afternoon when a speeding New York car with a lone driver passed through the square in Northfield. Another car had turned onto the highway from Parker Street and the New York car with brakes locked landed on the lawn in front of the Unitarian Church. No damage was done.

After taking a friend to Rutland Vermont last Wednesday Clifton Daniels of the Bernardston airport and Jack Bennett of Northfield Farms returned in Bennett's new Ford car which was ditched near Mount Holly. Press reports state that for some reason the car left the road and tore into a fence and turned over badly injuring Daniels who was taken to Rutland Hospital. Bennett was only slightly injured. The car was brought to Northfield last Monday.

CHEVROLET We didn't actually plan on elephants when we chose the bodies for the new Chevrolet. Wendell Town
Officials Pardon

Governor Joseph B. Ely and the Executive Council have granted a full pardon to the Wendell board of three selectmen, Charles M. Ballou, Charles H. Jennison and Lewis B. Bowen who are serving sentences of three months each in the house of correction, Greenfield, for illegally omitting the names of qualified voters from the voting list.

While the sentence was pronounced after a trial by the court, the case was the result of political animosities and the sympathy of the public for Wendell and elsewhere about the district has been with the three disgraced selectmen. Governor Ely is to be commended for his action.

Votes To Disband
Northfield P. T. A.

The Northfield P. T. A. met last Monday afternoon at the home of its President Mrs. Merwin D. Birdsall on Maple Street and voted to disband.

The reason for this action as stated by the officers was that the local officers and members had been unable to attend conventions or to co-operate adequately with the state and national organization, the connection between the local unit and the general organization being largely confined to the payment of dues.

Those who have been especially interested in the work here are planning to organize again in the fall in a purely local club to be known as the Teachers and Parents Union or some similar organization. A social hour followed the business meeting and refreshments were served by the officers.

The Northfield Hospital

Many persons will be interested in the progress of the Northfield Hospital, operated by Dr. R. E. Hubbard in a review, of their work accomplished.

Since the opening of the hospital June 9, 1933, 44 patients have been admitted.

Babies have been born to the following parents: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Holton, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Chamberlin of town, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Miller of West Gill, Mass.

Admitted and treated 6 accident cases, 5 observation and medical cases, and 11 surgical cases.

The following have had tonsils and adenoids removed: Bertha Ryther of Bernardston, Mary and William Dalton, Lois and Dwight Stearns, Walter Luceau, Floyd Aldrich, Esther Szeszowski, Carl Stone, Frank Wilson, Mariel and Marilyn Dresser all of town; Flora and Donald Felton of Millers Falls.

The hospital wishes to thank the townspeople for their kind interest and donations to the hospital of fresh and canned fruit and vegetables; also linen and many other useful and helpful gifts.

Citizens Can Help

Citizens of the town in all locations can render a valuable service if they would report the presence of any strange and suspicious folks in town coming under their observation. If an automobile stopping without apparent reason is noticed make a memo of its license number. Sheriff Darby would appreciate any information by phone in endeavoring to investigate the "breaks" about town.

Issues Folder

Valley Vista Inn has just issued from the press of the Northfield Printing Co. a very fine folder expressive of the printers art. The folder contains two very good pictures and much information of the attractiveness of Northfield and the welcome of the Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Briemaster are to be congratulated.

Will Hold Field Day

The Franklin County League of Sportsmen's Clubs will hold its annual field day and picnic at the Schutzenverein Athletic association grounds at Riverside Sunday, September 17. A varied program of archery, trapshooting, chicken and turkey shoots, track and field events, dog shows for several kinds of hunting dogs and bait and fly-casting contests is being arranged.

"Where should you spend? Can there be any question? You should spend under the Blue Eagle. If you spend elsewhere you are hurting the chance to end unemployment, because you are helping to destroy the business of the men who are paying more for help. You are aiding them who refuse to do so."

So an admission from Hugh Johnson National Recovery Chairman reads. Buy now and patronize that business which supports the nation's recovery plans.

It is estimated that already the NRA program has taken 2,000,000 people off the unemployment lists and put them in jobs. This means, conservatively figured, that a billion dollars a year is already added to the purchasing power of the American people, and the movement is only beginning. This circumstance alone ought to be sufficient assurance to those timid people who have been doubting the success of the great experiment. Ultimately, of course, all the business of the United States will be conducted under the codes, which have for their chief purpose correction of the unemployment situation. Elements in the accomplishment are the elimination of child labor, the shortening of hours of work, and a higher wage scale. It needs no statistician to demonstrate that every decrease of unemployment brings us closer to the end of economic depression, for every man who is earning a living indirectly contributes by what he buys to the employment of others, and so the wheels of commerce will turn faster and faster until the great depression becomes merely a memory. The rapidity with which we reach this desired goal depends on the promptness with which industry generally comes into the fold. All ready most of the larger industries are in. But the smaller manufacturer or merchant, taken in the mass, is even more important than the big corporations. Incidentally, the consumer must play his part. Every purchase made now is an investment, the dividends of which will come out of future prosperity. Moreover, the encouragement the consumer can give to the businesses that comply with the requirements of the NRA will not only encourage him but will be a warning to those who are holding back that if they expect to share in the general revival they had better get aboard at once.

The saying that it's never too late to mend, doesn't apply to physical property.

In these days, every community has its share of homes and business buildings which have been allowed to depreciate to the point where they are ready for the wrecking crew. Their degeneration may be laid to the door of false economy. While a dollar was "saved" temporarily, many dollars were lost because of it.

There are hundreds of thousands of properties which can still be put in good condition at a moderate cost, but which will be gone beyond redemption if work is put off much longer. Today we can still get in on bargain prices for most supplies and commodities—tomorrow will tell a different story. The wholesale price level has been skyrocketing, and now the retail level is beginning to follow. You don't have to take anyone's word for it that this is the time to build and repair—the cold and unprejudiced statistical tables tell you that, and they permit of no argument.

Build now, improve now—provide jobs and purchasing power, remember that investment and employment are cheaper than charity, and that they make charity unnecessary.

The recent International Christian Endeavor Convention at Milwaukee voted to hold the 1935 convention in Philadelphia.

The great song leader and Christian spirit, Percy S. Foster of Washington, D. Mr. Foster's songs have been sung in Northfield and during his lifetime was a visitor here.

On the grounds of the University of Pittsburgh a beautiful cathedral costing $800,000 is being erected as a memorial to the late J. Heinz founder of the H. J. Just twenty-five years ago this month Dr. D. Sankey passed away. He was the well known evangelist and noted organist, associated with Dwight L. Moody, and who was known as "The Great Revivalist." A Shaker hymn, "When the Saints Go Marching In," and others have been published.

Poet's Corner

How rich were I did I possess the rose
That blooms, faint dawn, above a June-clad hill;
Or owned the shadows in the woodland still
Where August dreams above some stream's repose,
While through wild vineyards like low music flows
The hum of bees, bird notes of subtle skill,
As unseen harpers in the great pines fill
The glades with sounds like music's afterglows.
Then might I bring you gifts of something fair—
Symbols of high desire by pure faith bound;
Souls of red sunsets; greetings such as bear
Rich-hearted Autumn when great winds resound:
Then I thy merchant of great wealth should be
To make more rich thy spirit's treasury.

THE DAWN BLIND HOMER SAW

The rosy-fingered dawn blind Homer saw,
The perfect love that lonely Dante knew,
The kingdom which the great Christ wandered through,
The city Bunyan dreamed on jail-bed straw:
These are my Heaven without earthly flaw
Since I in Beauty dwell and find that true
Which is my own. Nor can this world subdue
That source of love, power, peace from which I draw
Forever for my soul new life more fair,
Wherein all things for me are made anew.
Life in its essence is than pearls more rare!
As the bent vine from earth its sweet strength drew,
So draws my life, despite all toil and ill,
Its wine of joy this body's life to fill.

THEY CALL ME STRONG

They call me strong because my tears I shed where none may see;
Because I smile, tell merry tales and win the crowd to me;
They call me strong because I laugh to ease an aching heart,
Because I keep the sweet side out and hide the bitter part.
But, oh, could they who call me strong live but an hour with me
When I am wrung with grief in my Gethsemane!

They call me strong because I toil from early morn till late,
Well knowing there will be no smile to meet me at the gate.
They call me strong because I hide inward pain with jest,
And drive away the care that comes unbidden to my breast.
Perhaps 'tis strength—God knows best; He sent the cares to me;
And His—not mine—the strength that keeps through my Gethsemane!

By Strickland Gillilan.

Our Young People Enjoy Social Activities

Northfield's young people certainly could not complain of "nothing to do" last Monday evening. Indeed it seemed that everyone in town participated in at least one of the several social gatherings held that night.

At the gymnasium on the Northfield Seminary campus, a farewell party was staged for the enjoyment of the Seminary and Mount Hermon employees. Dancing predominated with bridge, ping pong, etc. attracting many others. Music was provided by a newly formed local orchestra which included among its members: Richard Watson, Joseph Reiter, and Adam West of Mount Hermon, Seth Field of Northfield, and Robert McDermott a summer resident. During intermission, the famous Hampton Quartette entertained.

On the same evening, Miss Jessie Backus gave a most enjoyable party at her summer home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bennett. About twenty guests were present to wish the newlyweds continued happiness.

In spite of the above competition and rainy weather in addition, the audience which attended the town hall movies was just as large as usual. Mr. Nilman has booked another outstanding picture for next Monday evening. The title, "Zoo in Budapest," would indicate an animal picture, but such is not really the case. While the story centers about a zoo, a boy and girl romance is the underlying theme of the movie. Besides romance, there are thrills aplenty—all mounting steadily to a magnificent climax that will quicken your pulses with its terrific suspense.

Why not let your imagination take you next Monday evening to "Zoo in Budapest"—the place where anything may happen and everything does. In addition, the novelty film, "Krakatoa" will be shown.

Warwick Observes Its Old Home Day

Warwick's Old Home Day last week was a spectacular affair and more largely attended than usual. It was the 39th annual re-union of residents and former residents and the program provided was full of interest for all. For the young people there were sports; for the older people band concerts and a literary and musical program, and for those in between, horseshoe throwing, baseball and a "grand ball" in the evening.

At noon basket luncheons were served in the attractive little park with its rustic environment.

In local homes there were also family gatherings for the dinner hour and many as usual were served at Warwick's colonial inn.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the Federated Church was filled with people to enjoy the address of the day.

The afternoon program was carried out in detail as follows: Address of welcome, President Withereil; vocal selections, Blackmer quartet, invocation, Rev. M. S. Buckingham, pastor of the Federated Church; vocal selections, Blackmer quartet, address, Mr. Lord; vocal selections, Blackmer quartet; closing song, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

At three o'clock the great baseball game with the Northfield team was played but the Warwick team lost.

Officers in charge of the affair were as follows: President, George A. Withereil, vice-president, P. J. Malouin, treasurer, Josiah Joslin; secretary, Hettie B. Lincoln.

Many families from Northfield attended at the Old Home Day and among them were noted those of the Morgans, Vore's, Irish, Stearns families.

Replica Of Fort Dedicated Last Week

Fort Massachusetts, erected in 1745 by the colony of Massachusetts Bay to protect its western frontier has been restored and was dedicated as a historical shrine last Saturday with appropriate exercises. It is located in a meadow beside the quiet Hoosac River between North Adams and Williams-town. This historical place will now become a mecca to all interested in history and should afford an opportunity for many in Northfield to visit as an objective a motor trip over the Mohawk Trail.

Fort Massachusetts was attacked on Aug. 19, 1746, by 800 French and Indians, under General Vaudreuil, brother of the Governor of Canada.

It was defended for twenty-eight hours by thirty men, women and children, commanded by Sergeant John Hawke of Deerfield. Overcome by superior numbers and lack of ammunition, the defenders surrendered the next day.

The French flag was raised, the fort was burned and the defenders were taken to Canada as prisoners. Elihu Nims of Deerfield was killed outside the fort by Indians.

The replica of the fort is built of logs on the exact site of the original. It is 120 by 80 feet in size and is 11 feet high, with watch towers on the northwest and southeast corners. The inside barracks are 70 by 35, with a well and sweep. The chimney stones are those of the original.

A cannon ball and a collection of coins and buttons are among the relics in a museum just started.

In 1748 the Rev. John Norton published a narrative of the battle. It was republished in 1870 under the title "The Redeemed Captive."

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, FRANKLIN, SS. Case 25118, PROBATE COURT
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of ELIZA M. CADDY, late of Northfield in said County, deceased:

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Samuel Mason of Marlboro in the state of New Hampshire without giving a surety on his bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Greenfield, in said County of Franklin, on the first Tuesday of September A. D. 1933, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Northfield Herald, a newspaper published in said Northfield, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, FRANCIS NIMS THOMPSON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventh day of August in the year of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three.

JOHN C. LEE, Register.

Appendicitis

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health has through Dr. Wright been placing some circulars about town concerning appendicitis which it is hoped the public will understand.

In Philadelphia, as shown by studies covering the years 1928, 1929 and 1930, the mortality from acute appendicitis was materially reduced following a campaign of education.

Of 1,973 patients admitted to Philadelphia hospitals for acute appendicitis, who stated that they had taken laxatives, one in 14 died; while of 785 patients who had no laxatives, only one in 112 died. There was a decrease in mortality of 24 per cent following a marked reduction in the time of delay before seeking treatment. Taking of laxatives for abdominal pain, which may indicate appendicitis, greatly increases the danger from that disease, and the longer the delay before calling for medical aid in the presence of abdominal pain the greater is the likelihood of fatal results. Get in touch with your physician if you have abdominal pain.
